

BIOGRAPHY

Simon Dekker,
CEO

Dekker, LTD. Enterprise Project Management Solutions

Mr. Simon Dekker has a unique blend of experience in both technical and managerial disciplines. He is an accomplished software engineer with credentials in complex business, scientific and defense systems. He is a successful software entrepreneur who built a garage-based enterprise into a corporation with world wide business presence. He is the CEO of Dekker, Ltd., producers of Enterprise Project Management Solutions, and is the original author of the company's flagship product, Dekker TRAKKER®. Mr. Dekker is experienced in mergers and acquisitions, business operations management, business finance, and high-tech project management. He has written numerous articles that have been published by the College of Performance Management, Project Management Institute, and the Institute of Managerial Accountants. He is an excellent speaker and presenter on leadership and management topics; he makes guest appearances as a public speaker, guest lecturer, and as a technology panelist at various trade associations and universities around the world.

NASA Project Management Conference